

Our Shared History. Our Shared Purpose.

Western New York's strategic location on the Great Lakes has made it both a terminus and gateway of migration. First home to Native American communities, the region was later settled primarily by New Englanders following the Revolutionary War. The opening of the Erie Canal provided an easy route west, attracting the first of many waves of immigrants from Europe. Many people remained in the area and have been followed by immigrants from around the world.

The Western New York Genealogical Society was founded in 1974 to help preserve and encourage interest in the area's rich genealogical heritage. Our work focuses on the eight counties of Western New York that originally comprised the Holland Land Company Purchase.

Society Objectives:

- To facilitate the collection and preservation of genealogical records relating to the history and peoples of Western New York's eight counties.
- To make these records available to researchers.
- To further genealogical knowledge and research through education.
- To foster record preservation by government agencies, organizations, and individuals.
